Alleged Frequency of Question able Resorts With Woman Not His Wife.

TAMPERED WITH WITNESSES

Shown in Bill That Mrs. Hartjo Had Accused Husband of Infidelity.

(By Associated Press.)

PITTSBURG, PA., July B.—Following a sensational attack on the character of Augustus Hartle, in which it was alleged that he had taken two different women frequently to a questionable resort, the real sensation of the day in the Hartle divorce trial culminated this afternoon, when Judge Robert S. Frazier admitted, under bitter protest of opposing counsel, testimony relating to the charges of conspiracy against John L. Weishons, a prominent merchant; Augustus Hartle, the libeliant, and Hooc, the negre coachman, now in jail on perjury charges for alleged false swearing in the case.

Deposition from Hooc.

Deposition from Hooe.

Welshons, who was called by Mrs. Hartje's counsel, told a clear story of how the deposition was secured from Hooe. He said that Hooe then left the city, and the witness told of having given him various small sums of money at different times. This looked like blackmall, the witness said. He said he might have told Hooe that he would be sent to the penitentiary for perjury if he did not stick to his original story. Welshoms story, it is said, coincides very closely to the statement of Hooe relating to the case, which is in the possession of the district attorney.

This was the first attempt during the trial to present evidence of an alleged conspiracy, which Mrs. Hartje's counsel declare, was formed to defaite her. Welshons is a close friend of Augustus Hartje.

Repudiated Story Later. Deposition from Hooe.

Repudiated Story Later.

Repudiated Story Later,
Hooe, eight months ago, made a deposition, in which he said he had been intimate with Mrs. Hartje. He afterwards repudlated it, and is now in jail on a charge of perjury. Welshons said that Hooe's deposition was taken in his story
by Attorney Edward G. Hartje, Augustus Hartje's brother, and Attorney Andrew Fisher, Hartje's hrother-in-law. Welshons detailed how he assisted Hooe to get away from the detectives in New Jersey, and of the sarious times in grue Hooe money on his demand. Welshons, however, desilared that Augustus Hartje knew nothing of the fact that Welshons was paying Hooe money, and that he never spoke to him about it.

Tampered With Witnesses.

Tampered With Witnesses. Welshons admitted that Hartje's at-torneys had told Hooe that if he was no talling the truth they would prosecute rim. Weishons foiled every attemo-pade to show that he had conspired with

Hartje to get Hooe to make the deposi tion. In placing Mr. Welshons on the stand, Attorney John M. Freeman, for Mrs. Hartje, said that he did so to prove that an attempt had been made to tamper with witnesses. They said they had a letter rhowing that the deposition of a witness, knowing that his testimony was false and that they also would show that an attempt had been made to tamper with witnesses. made to tamper with witnesses. New Line of Defense.

New Line of Detense.

Mrs. Hartje's counsel opened up a new line in the detense, by presenting evidence to show that Hartje had visited a disorderly house and had met an immoral woman there. The chief witness as to this was a servant in the house, and a hot fight was made by Hartje's attorneys against admitting this evidence. After a reading of Mrs. Hartje's bill of particulars and finding that Mrs. Hartje had accused her husband of adultery Judgo Robert S. Frazier decided to admit the evidence.

Fort Caswell Reservation.

A careful survey of the military reservation of Fort Caswell, North Carolina, having been made by Assistant Engineer S. F. Burbank, under the direction of Capt. Robert F. Johnston, Corps of Engineers, April 24-27, 1599, the reservation, eccording to this survey, is announced as including all that part of Oak Island, situated as the mouth of Cape Fear River, in Brunswick country, lying east of a north and south line through a point 2,1006 feet (chain measurement) west of a meridian line marked by two brass pipes embedded in concrete—the north pipe being north of the administration the superior slope of the west face of the protongation of the yolding pintless of emplacements two, three and four of Battery Swift. The west line of the reservation is marked by four granite posts about six inches square and four and one-half feet long, sunk about three feet. One stone is near the beach, the next just north of the point at which a neighborhood road crosses the line; the third is near the point where the dry lind merges into marsh, and the fourth is in the marsh near the bank of Elizabeth River. The first three have the letters "U. S. Res." cut in their tops. The fourth has no lettering.

HARTFORD, CONN., July 19.-Criticism of the methods pursued by President gation of packers, by Frank Thurbe, a New Yorker, formerly a manufacturer, was the chief feature of this afternoon's session of the National Pure Food Convention. He characterized reports concerning the packing houses by the President. He did not see why official reporters and turned the matter over to "social settlement men" to de-cide.

D. C., in reply to this criticism; said that if it had not been for the action of the chairman of the Congressional Committee of the House, the reports mittee of the House, the reports would never have been published.

J. Q. Pmery, dairy and food commissioner of Wisconsin, also spoke in defense of the President's action, 'saying that a man who had the stamina to stand for a square deal for the country and the people at large, regardless of special interests, was a man we should all admire.

A motion was passed unanimously disapproving the aentiments expressed against President Roosevelt.

LONDON, July 19 .- The untimely death of Lady Curzon, of Kedelston, is univer-sally mourned. While she was not so much in the public eye personally as some others of the American peeresses, none of her countrywomen had made a more solid place for herself in the very best of British society. She had in a marked degree the attributes which should be held by the wife of a public man.

Possessed Great Dignity. Benuty, dignity and tact were hers to a marked degree. She aided her hus band not alone by the fortune she brough him, but in a greater degree by the sym-pathy and remarkable aptitude for affairs of states and as one of the most thrilly light of modern British statesmen, and when a very young man a brilliant career was predicted for him. That he has fulfilled these predictions so quickly and with such marked success is due in no small measure to his wife. Was a Devoted Mother.

Was a Devoted Mother.

Lady Curzon was a devoted mother and the bond between her and her three beautiful little daughters was strong. No one will miss her more than they.

Lord Curzon is naturally overcome, with grief at his great loss and between a state of almost collapse to day. He has 'Dech' the recipient of messages' of condelence from all over the world. The King and other members of the royal family have sent sympathetic messages.

CRANEY ISLAND MATTERS AT REST

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Acting Secretary Newberry, of the Navy Department, to-day heard Attorney George M. Wise, of Norfolk, regarding the removal of the contagious diseases buildings from Craney Island, in Norfolk harbor. This has been a matter of contention for some months, and the determination to-day was to leave the matter as it stood, subject to an appeal to Secretary Bonaparta, when he returns. This means that for the present, at least, the Navy Department will not require the removal of the buildings, and Craney Island can still be used by the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth as a site for buildings where persons afflicted with contagious diseases may be sent. ease Station.

whom the police of Richmond, Norfold, Baitimore and Philadelphia have been searching for three days, were found crouching in a milk wagon in the rear of the dairy near Fifty-seventh Street and Virginia Avenue, just inside the limits of this city, about midnight last night, by Datective Sergeant Woodward and several citizens. The couple had not the mild of the away from the city at any time, and when arrested Goodman had less than fifty cents in his pockets.

Goodman gave no plausible excuse for his conduct, and the authorities for inclined to believe that he is either crazy or idiotic! According to his story, he went walking with the girl, who is only, thirteen years old, Sunday night and the child refused to go home, saying that her brother told her he would kill hor its she over spoke to Goodman. The man's excuse for staying with her is that she threatened to commit suicide, and het was afraid to leave her. The child tolls practically the same story, and Chief of Police Reynolds says the case has puzzled him.

it is possible that the charge of criminal assault will be filed against the prisoner. Goodman is twenty-five years old, and is a ship-fitter, emptoyed at the ship-yard. He lives at 1311 Twenty-fourth Street with his wife and baby. His wife is a daughter of George E. Clark, president of the Clark Ovérall and Pants Manufacturing Company, of this city.

The girl is a little yellow-haired child scarcely thirteen years old. Her mother is Mrs. Carrie Harrison, a widow, and lives at 1250 Twenty-sixth Street. Goodman and his wife were frequent visitors at the Harrison home until recently, whom Mrs. Goodman became jealous of the child and created a scene. While Mrs. Harrison had no suspicion of anything wrong, she had her son tell Goodman to siny away from the house, and not to speak to Lilliani, on July 5, when young Harrison approached Goodman, a fisticut took blace. After that nothing more was heard of the affair until the couple disarpeared Sunday night.

he was not arrested. Last night he could not be found. He is alleged to have taken the girl from her home near Reanoke, July 9th. Presumably they went to Crewe, Va., and Mrs. Feather said yesterday that the girl was there now. Lowman left her there when he came to Manchester, so the Mayor is informed. Mrs. Feather is the sister of Mrs. Gibbs, the mother of the young girl who is alleged to have been abducted. Mr. Feather was interested in the case last week and asked Mayor Maurice for the address of a man named Lemmon. When told that there was no such person in Manchester he left, and yesterday morning Mrs. Feather roturned and swore out the warrant for Clarence Lowman.
